Dear all,

We, the Department of Community Medicine, Yenepoya Medical College, Yenepoya University, Mangaluru, are delighted to invite you to the XXVII Annual Conference of the Karnataka Association of Community Health, KACHCON-2015, to be held on 30th and 31st of October 2015, with the theme, "Urban health: Changing Priorities, Opportunities and Challenges". The Conference is preceded by a CME on the topic, "Competency based curricular reforms in Community Medicine Postgraduate training programme" on 29th October 2015.

We intend to conduct this prestigious Annual Conference with the objective of providing valuable insights regarding the urban health issues, challenges and solutions.

We cordially welcome you all to participate actively in this academic feast and enjoy our hospitality. We seek your support through your energetic participation.

Organizing Department

The Department of Community Medicine, Yenepoya Medical College has been set up with the objectives of providing quality community oriented education to the undergraduate (MBBS) and postgraduate medical students (MD), conducting valuable research, empowering the community by health education programmes and delivering primary health care services. The Department has made great efforts to impart Continuing Medical Education to the Community Health Professionals and Postgraduates through Workshops, CMEs and Guest lectures.

We have now accepted the task of hosting the reputable KACHCON - 2015, with great zeal and enthusiasm.

Host Institute

Yenepoya Medical College was established in the year 1999. The College runs Undergraduate courses and Postgraduate Courses in various disciplines. The College became a constituent of Yenepoya University in 2009. The College strives to deliver comprehensive and affordable medical care, provide quality medical education to the students and encourage conduct of research in the various disciplines of medicine.

Yenepoya University

Yenepoya University is the first private University in the District of Dakshina Kannada, established in the year 2008. It aspires to impart excellent education in health sciences through its constituent colleges. The University also facilitates in creating skilled personnel having innovative research capabilities through the PhD programme and also runs a National Service Scheme (NSS). It has also established top-notch centres for advanced learning and research like the Centers for Research, Ethics, Health Professional Education and Substance Abuse Prevention. It maintains social commitment by adopting nearby villages for comprehensive health care, through the Directorate of Rural Health Care and Development.

About Mangaluru city

Mangaluru is the chief port city of Karnataka located about 371 kilometres, west of the state capital, Bengaluru and is well known for its places of worship, educational institutions and beaches. The city is well accessible via road, rail and air.

Karnataka Association of Community Health

Karnataka Association of Community Health is an association for Community Health Professionals, across Karnataka, established in the year 1984, as a not for profit organization, to foster promotion of community health by bringing its members' expertise to the development of policies, facilitate education, research and initiatives in the field of Community Medicine and provide a forum for the exchange of information.

Theme for KACHCON 2015:

Urban Health: Changing Priorities, Opportunities and Challenges

Magnitude of urban deprivation/poverty, urban disease dynamics and intra-urban disparities in health care services has not been given due attention by health professionals and policy makers. Challenges in urban health include Non-Communicable Diseases (NCDs), respiratory infections, environmental sanitation, accidents, injuries, urban health governance, equity and affordability in health care services.

KACHCON 2015 is designed to facilitate shared learning through deliberations, discussions and scientific forums among Community Medicine Professionals, Public Health experts, Policy makers and Postgraduates.

Theme for Pre conference CME:

Competency Based Curricular Reforms in Community Medicine Postgraduate Training Programme

How can we ensure that our Community Medicine Postgraduates acquire the requisite competencies to cater to the needs of the community???

Competency-based Medical education (CBME) is a resurgent paradigm in professional education. CBME addresses following issues: focus on outcomes, an emphasis on abilities and the promotion of learner-centeredness.

Deliberations and brain storming sessions with Community Medicine professionals, Public Health experts and Postgraduates in this CME envisages the development of competency based curricular framework addressing curricular content, teaching, learning and assessment methods.
